

IN THE UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
EASTERN DISTRICT OF MISSOURI
EASTERN DIVISION

BOBBY MORRIS, individually and on behalf of all others similarly situated, v.

Plaintiff,

OHMIUX LLC D/B/A CARBINOX

Defendant.

Case No.

JURY TRIAL DEMANDED

PLAINTIFF’S FIRST AMENDED CLASS ACTION COMPLAINT

Plaintiff Bobby Morris (“Mr. Morris”), by his undersigned counsel, for this class action complaint against Defendant Ohmiux LLC d/b/a Carbinox, as well as its present, former and future direct and indirect parent companies, subsidiaries, affiliates, agents and related entities, as applicable, and alleges as follows:

I. INTRODUCTION

1. Nature of Action: “Telemarketing calls are intrusive. A great many people object to these calls, which interfere with their lives, tie up their phone lines, and cause confusion and disruption on phone records. Faced with growing public criticism of abusive telephone marketing practices, Congress enacted the Telephone Consumer Protection Act of 1991. Pub. L. No. 102-243, 105 Stat. 2394 (1991) (codified at 47 U.S.C. § 227). As Congress explained, the law was a response to Americans ‘outraged over the proliferation of intrusive, nuisance calls to their homes from telemarketers,’ id. § 2(6), and sought to strike a balance between ‘[i]ndividuals’ privacy rights, public safety interests, and commercial freedoms,’ id. § 2(9).” Krakauer v. Dish Network, L.L.C., 925 F.3d 643, 649 (4th Cir. 2019).

2. “[T]he law opted for a consumer-driven process that would allow objecting individuals to prevent unwanted calls to their homes. The result of the telemarketing regulations was the national Do-Not-Call registry. See 47 C.F.R. § 64.1200(c)(2). Within the federal government’s web of indecipherable acronyms and byzantine programs, the Do-Not-Call registry stands out as a model of clarity. It means what it says. If a person wishes to no longer receive telephone solicitations, he can add his number to the list. The TCPA then restricts the telephone solicitations that can be made to that number. See id.; 16 C.F.R. § 310.4(b)(iii)(B) (‘It is an abusive telemarketing act or practice and a violation of this Rule for a telemarketer to . . . initiat[e] any outbound telephone call to a person when . . . [t]hat person’s telephone number is on the “do-not-call” registry, maintained by the Commission.’). . . . [P]rivate suits can seek either monetary or injunctive relief. [47 U.S.C. § 227(c)(5)]. . . . This private cause of action is a straightforward provision designed to achieve a straightforward result. Congress enacted the law to protect against invasions of privacy that were harming people. The law empowers each person to protect his own personal rights. Violations of the law are clear, as is the remedy. Put simply, the TCPA affords relief to those persons who, despite efforts to avoid it, have suffered an intrusion upon their domestic peace.” Id. at 649-50.

3. Plaintiff, individually and as class representative for all others similarly situated, brings this action against Defendant for violations of the Telephone Consumer Protection Act, 47 U.S.C. § 227 (“TCPA”) for making telemarketing calls, including text messages, to numbers on the National Do Not Call Registry, including his own.

4. Because telemarketing campaigns generally place calls to thousands or even millions of potential customers en masse, Plaintiff brings this action on behalf of a proposed nationwide class of other persons who received illegal telemarketing calls from or on behalf of Defendant, as well as those individuals who had previously asked to no longer receive calls.

II. PARTIES

5. Plaintiff Morris is an individual who resides in the Eastern District of Missouri, Eastern Division.

6. Defendant Ohmiux LLC d/b/a Carbinox is a Florida corporation with its headquarters and principal place of business in Florida.

III. JURISDICTION AND VENUE

7. Jurisdiction. This Court has federal-question subject matter jurisdiction over Plaintiff's TCPA claims pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1331 because the TCPA is a federal statute. 47 U.S.C. § 227; Mims v. Arrow Fin. Servs., LLC, 565 U.S. 368, 372 (2012).

8. Personal Jurisdiction: This Court has personal jurisdiction over Defendant. The Court has specific personal jurisdiction over Defendant because Defendant directed its conduct into this state by calling individuals with 636- area codes.

9. Venue: Venue is proper in this District pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1391(b)(2) because a substantial portion of the events giving rise to this lawsuit—the receipt of the illegal text messages at issue—occurred in this District and Division.

IV. FACTS

A. The Enactment of the TCPA and its Regulations

10. In 1991, Congress enacted the TCPA in response to a growing number of consumer complaints regarding certain telemarketing practices.

11. Section 227(c) of the TCPA requires the FCC to “initiate a rulemaking proceeding concerning the need to protect residential telephone subscribers’ privacy rights to avoid receiving telephone solicitations to which they object.” 47 U.S.C. § 227(c)(1).

12. The National Do Not Call Registry allows consumers to register their telephone numbers and thereby indicate their desire not to receive telephone solicitations at those numbers. See 47 C.F.R. § 64.1200(c)(2).

13. A listing on the Registry “must be honored indefinitely, or until the registration is cancelled by the consumer or the telephone number is removed by the database administrator.” Id.

14. The TCPA and implementing regulations prohibit the initiation of telephone solicitations to residential telephone subscribers to the Registry and provides a private right of action against any entity that makes those calls, or “on whose behalf” such calls are made. 47 U.S.C. § 227(c)(5); 47 C.F.R. § 64.1200(c)(2).

B. The TCPA Requires Entities To Have Sufficient Policies in Place To Prevent Unwanted Calls Before Making Telemarketing Calls

15. The TCPA specifically required the Federal Communication Commission (“FCC”) to “initiate a rulemaking proceeding concerning the need to protect residential telephone subscribers’ privacy rights to avoid receiving telephone solicitations to which they object.” 47 U.S.C. § 227(c)(1).

16. The FCC was instructed to “compare and evaluate alternative methods and procedures (including the use of . . . company-specific ‘do not call systems . . .’)” and “develop proposed regulations to implement the methods and procedures that the Commission determines are most effective and efficient to accomplish purposes of this section.” Id. at (c)(1)(A), (E).

17. Pursuant to this statutory mandate, the FCC established company-specific “do not call” rules. In the Matter of Rules and Regulations Implementing the Telephone Consumer Protection Act of 1991, 7 F.C.C. Rcd. 8752 (Oct. 16, 1992) (“TCPA Implementation Order”).

18. These regulations are codified at 47 C.F.R. §§ 64.1200(d)(1)-(7).

19. Specifically, these regulations require a company to keep a written policy, available upon demand, for maintaining a do not call list, train personnel engaged in telemarketing on the existence and use of its internal do not call list, and record and honor “do not call” requests for no less than five years from the time the request is made. 47 C.F.R. §§ 64.1200(d)(1, 2, 3, 6).

20. This includes the requirement that “[a] person or entity making a call for telemarketing purposes must provide the called party with the name of the individual caller, the name of the person or entity on whose behalf the call is being made, and a telephone number or address at which the person or entity can be contacted.” 47 C.F.R. § 64.1200(d)(4).

C. Unsolicited Telemarketing to Plaintiff

21. Plaintiff Morris is, and at all times mentioned herein was, a “person” as defined by 47 U.S.C. § 153(39).

22. Plaintiff Morris’s cellular telephone number, (636) XXX-XXXX, is a telephone number that is used for residential purposes.

23. Plaintiff Morris uses the telephone number for his own personal, residential, and household needs and reasons.

24. For example, Plaintiff Morris uses the number to communicate with friends, family, and acquaintances, time household tasks, such as cooking, and for navigation while running household tasks.

25. The number is a residential telephone line because it is assigned to a telephone exchange service for consumers and is not assigned to a telephone exchange service for businesses.

26. Plaintiff Morris, like most people, no longer maintains any other residential telephone number, like a landline number. As such, the number at issue is his only residential telephone line.

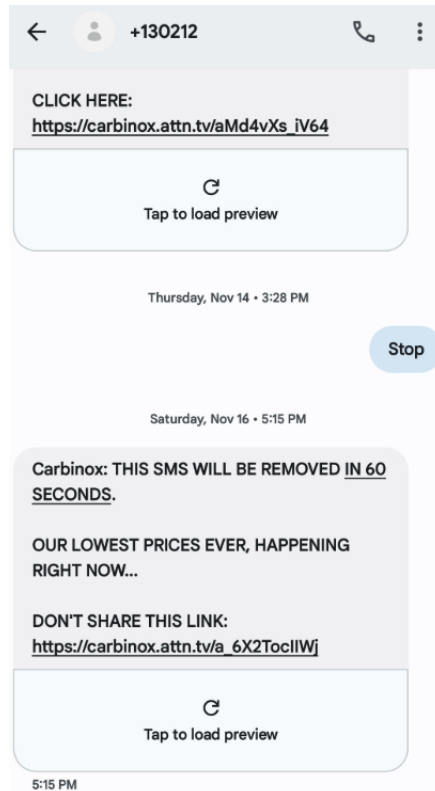

27. The telephone number is the primary means of reaching Mr. Morris at his residence.

28. Plaintiff Morris's number has been on the National Do Not Call Registry since he registered it on the Registry on July 27, 2018, well prior to receiving the text messages at issue.

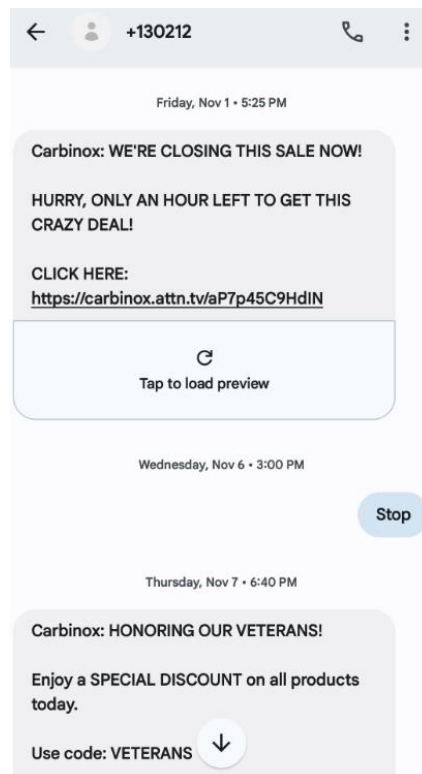

29. Despite that, Mr. Morris received at least 26 telemarketing text messages from the same "short code" 130212 and the phone number 855-976-9686 between at least November 6, 2024 and present. At least 17 of those text messages were sent after the Plaintiff sent a formal letter to Carbinox, as well as emails, on March 2, 2025, advising them of the illegal text messages.

30. The text messages all were sent to advertise Carbinox's goods and services.

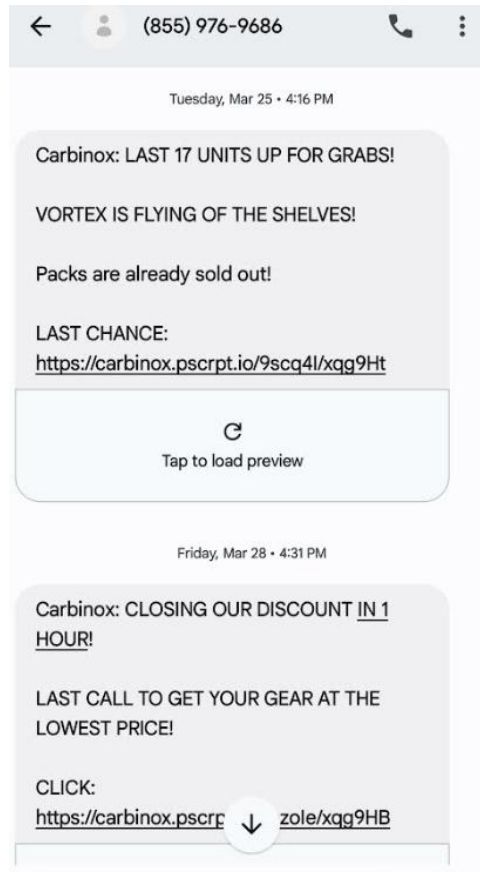

31. The Plaintiff responded "Stop" to one of the messages, but the messages continued, as reproduced on the following page:

32. Thereafter, the Plaintiff continued to receive text messages, to which he responded “Stop” again, but continued to receive messages:

33. In fact, the messages continued through the New Year, including in March, with a different telephone number:

34. On March 2, 2025, the Plaintiff sent the following email and attached a copy of a letter he mailed to Carbinox:

Dear Carbinox Compliance Team,

Pursuant to my rights under the Telephone Consumer Protection Act (TCPA) and Missouri telemarketing laws, I formally request that your company provide the following evidence regarding the telemarketing calls/texts made to my phone number, [REDACTED]

1. Proof of Prior Express Written Consent – Copies of any consent agreements that allegedly authorize your company to contact me via autodialed/prerecorded calls or text messages.
2. Call Logs & Records – A detailed record of all calls/texts made to my number, including dates, times, caller ID information, and call recordings (if available).
3. Do Not Call Policy & Compliance Measures – Documentation of your company's internal policies and procedures for ensuring compliance with the National Do Not Call Registry and Missouri's No-Call List.
4. Opt-Out Records – Documentation showing my request(s) to revoke consent and any actions taken by your company to honor such requests.
5. Third-Party Involvement – If any third-party marketing firms were involved, provide their names, contact details, and any agreements governing their conduct under TCPA.

I expect a response with all requested documents within, 7 business days. Failure to comply may result in legal action, as well as seeking statutory damages.

Please send all requested documentation to [REDACTED]

Sincerely,
Bobby Morris

35. The Plaintiff received the following non-response from the Defendant, which he clarified, but received no further response:

Dear Justine,

Thank you for your response. However, it appears that my request was misinterpreted. My original inquiry pertains to TCPA compliance and telemarketing calls made to my number, not to any concerns about Carbinox watches.

To reiterate, I am requesting documentation as outlined in my initial email, specifically:

1. Proof of prior express written consent for telemarketing calls/texts made to my number.
2. Call logs and records, including details of all communications.
3. Your company's Do Not Call policy and compliance measures.
4. Opt-out records reflecting any revocation of consent.
5. Any third-party involvement in the marketing outreach.

Please review my original request and provide the necessary documentation within the required timeframe. Failure to comply may result in legal action.

I appreciate your prompt attention to this matter.

Sincerely,
Bobby Morris

36. The text messages have continued as recently as the week this Complaint was filed:

37. Following each of the links in the aforementioned text messages leads to a page on the Defendant Carbinox's website.

38. For example, the latest link leads to a page advertising Carbinox Smart Watches:

Carbinox / Smartwatches, CARBINOX, <http://carbinox.pscpt.io/9vL0AI>

[<https://archive.is/mydb3>].

39. It is evident that the Defendant sent the text messages at issue here to promote its smart watch products.

40. Moreover, there can be no question that, based on the facts as pled here, the Defendant either failed to place the Plaintiff's number on its internal do not call list, or does not maintain such a list to begin with.

41. At minimum, the fact that the Plaintiff's texted "Stop" but the messages continued lend to the conclusion that the Defendant does not maintain any procedures for having an internal do not call list, for otherwise, the Plaintiff's "Stop" message would have been honored.

42. Essentially, in this respect, the Plaintiff pleads a variation of the doctrine of res ipsa loquitor, as such "Stop" requests are typically not dishonored absent some negligent or willful conduct on the part of the Defendant.

43. The Plaintiff does not presently know the precise technical reason why his "Stop" message was dishonored, but pleads that he will be able to uncover the same through discovery, including expert discovery.

44. In any event, the Plaintiff sent and clarified emailed correspondence to the Defendant to attempt to stop receiving these messages, which was not honored.

45. The Plaintiff did not ask for the text messages.

46. Because they were sent to encourage the purchase of the Defendant's smartwatches, the text messages were telemarketing.

47. Under the TCPA, as confirmed by the Supreme Court, text messages are "calls" for the purposes of the TCPA. Campbell-Ewald Co. v. Gomez, 577 U.S. 153, 153 (2016).

48. A reasonable seller would investigate into the reasons why they would be sending messages to numbers on the National Do Not Call Registry, let alone to those who did not request them as an initial matter and asked them to stop.

49. Plaintiff's privacy has been violated by the above-described telemarketing calls/text messages.

50. Plaintiff never provided his consent or requested these messages.

51. In fact, as illustrated above, the Plaintiff revoked his consent to receive the messages, but the messages continued for months after he revoked his consent.

52. In fact, the Plaintiff never signed up as an initial matter to receive text messages from the Defendant.

53. The aforementioned messages that were sent to the Plaintiff were unwanted.

54. The messages were non-consensual encounters.

55. Plaintiff and all members of the Classes, defined below, have been harmed by the acts of Defendant because their privacy has been violated and they were annoyed and harassed. In addition, the messages occupied their telephone storage space, rendering them unavailable for legitimate communication and other legitimate uses, including while driving, working, and performing other critical household tasks for which storage is required.

V. CLASS ACTION ALLEGATIONS

56. Class Definition. Pursuant to Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(b)(2) and (b)(3), Plaintiff brings this case on behalf of the Classes (the “Classes”) defined as follows:

National Do Not Call Registry Class: All persons in the United States whose (1) telephone numbers were on the National Do Not Call Registry for at least 31 days, (2) but who received more than one telemarketing text message or call from or on behalf of Carbincox, (3) within a 12-month period, (4) at any time in the period that begins four years before the date of filing this Complaint to trial.

Internal Do Not Call Class: All persons within the United States to whom: (1) Defendant (or a third-party acting on behalf of Defendant) sent (2) two or more telemarketing calls in a 12-month period, (3) who had previously asked for the calls to stop or for a copy of Defendant’s Do Not Call Policy and (4) within the four years prior to the filing of the Complaint.

57. Excluded from the Classes are counsel, Defendant, any entities in which Defendant has a controlling interest, Defendant’s agents and employees, any judge to whom this action is assigned, and any member of such judge’s staff and immediate family.

58. The Classes, as defined above, are identifiable through telephone records and telephone number databases.

59. The potential members of the Classes likely number at least in the hundreds because of the en masse nature of telemarketing calls.

60. Individual joinder of these persons is impracticable.

61. Additionally, the disposition of the claims in a class action will provide substantial benefit to the parties and the Court in avoiding a multiplicity of identical suits.

62. Plaintiff is a member of the Class and will fairly and adequately represent and protect the interests of the Classes as he has no interests that conflict with any of the class members.

63. Plaintiff and all members of the Classes have been harmed by the acts of Defendant, including, but not limited to, the invasion of their privacy, annoyance, waste of time, and the intrusion on their telephone that occupied it from receiving legitimate communications.

64. This class action complaint seeks injunctive relief and money damages.

65. There are numerous questions of law and fact common to Plaintiff and members of the Classes. These common questions of law and fact include, but are not limited to, the following:

- a. Whether Defendant systematically made multiple telephone calls to members of the National Do Not Call Registry Class;
- b. whether Defendant made calls to Plaintiff and members of the National Do Not Call Registry Class without first obtaining prior express written consent to make the calls;

c. whether Defendant made calls to Plaintiff and members of the Internal Do Not Call Class after having received a stop request; and

d. whether members of the Class are entitled to treble damages based on the willfulness of Defendant's conduct.

66. Plaintiff's claims are typical of the claims of the Class, as they arise out of the same common course of conduct by Defendant and are based on the same legal and remedial theories.

67. Plaintiff is an adequate representative of the Class because his interests do not conflict with the interests of the Class, he will fairly and adequately protect the interests of the Class, and he is represented by counsel skilled and experienced in class actions, including TCPA class actions.

68. Common questions of law and fact predominate over questions affecting only individual class members, and a class action is the superior method for fair and efficient adjudication of the controversy. The only individual question concerns identification of class members, which will be ascertainable from records maintained by Defendant, or any of its agents which discovery might reveal were also involved in the claims at issue.

69. A class action is the superior method for the fair and efficient adjudication of this controversy. Class-wide relief is essential to compel Defendant to comply with the TCPA. The interests of individual members of the Classes in individually controlling the prosecution of separate claims against Defendant is small because the damages in an individual action for violation of the TCPA are small. Management of these claims is likely to present significantly more difficulties than are presented in many class claims. Class treatment is superior to multiple individual suits or piecemeal litigation because it conserves judicial resources, promotes consistency and efficiency of adjudication, provides a forum for small claimants, and deters illegal activities. There will be no significant difficulty in the management of this case as a class action.

70. Defendant has acted on grounds generally applicable to the Classes, thereby making final injunctive relief and corresponding declaratory relief with respect to the Classes appropriate on a class-wide basis. Moreover, on information and belief, Plaintiff alleges that the telephone solicitation calls made by Defendant and/or its affiliates, agents, and/or other persons or entities which discovery may reveal may have been acting on Defendant's behalf that are complained of herein are substantially likely to continue in the future if an injunction is not entered.

FIRST CAUSE OF ACTION
Telephone Consumer Protection Act
Violations of 47 U.S.C. § 227(c)(5) & 47 C.F.R. § 64.1200(c)
(On Behalf of Plaintiff and the National Do Not Call Registry Class)

71. Plaintiff repeats the prior allegations of this Complaint and incorporates them by reference herein.

72. The foregoing acts and omissions of Defendant and/or its affiliates, agents, and/or other persons or entities which discovery may reveal may have been acting on Defendant's behalf constitute numerous and multiple violations of the TCPA, 47 U.S.C. § 227, by making telemarketing calls, except for emergency purposes, to Plaintiff and members of the National Do Not Call Registry Class despite their numbers being on the National Do Not Call Registry.

73. Defendant's violations were negligent, willful, or knowing, including because the messages continued after the Plaintiff texted "Stop."

74. As a result of Defendant's, and/or its affiliates, agents, and/or other persons or entities which discovery may reveal may have been acting on Defendant's behalf's violations of the TCPA, 47 U.S.C. § 227, Plaintiff and members of the National Do Not Call Registry Class are presumptively entitled to an award of between $500 and $1,500 in damages for each call made.

75. Plaintiff and the members of the National Do Not Call Registry Class are also entitled to and do seek injunctive relief prohibiting Defendant and/or its affiliates, agents, and/or other persons or entities which discovery may reveal may have been acting on Defendant's behalf from making telemarketing calls to telephone numbers registered on the National Do Not Call Registry, except for emergency purposes, in the future.

SECOND CAUSE OF ACTION
Violation of the Telephone Consumer Protection Act
(47 U.S.C. § 227(c)(5) & 47 C.F.R. § 64.1200(d))
(On Behalf of Plaintiff and the Internal Do Not Call Registry Class)

76. Plaintiff incorporates the allegations from all previous paragraphs as if fully set forth herein.

77. The foregoing acts and omissions of Defendant and/or its affiliates, agents, and/or other persons or entities which discovery may reveal may have been acting on Defendant's behalf constitute numerous and multiple violations of the TCPA, 47 U.S.C. § 227, by sending telemarketing calls, except for emergency purposes, to Plaintiff and members of the Internal Do Not Call Class despite previously requesting that such calls stop.

78. Defendant's violations were negligent, willful, or knowing, including because the messages continued after the Plaintiff texted "Stop."

79. As a result of Defendant's and/or its affiliates, agents, and/or other persons or entities which discovery may reveal may have been acting on Defendant's behalf's, violations of the TCPA, 47 U.S.C. § 227, Plaintiff and members of the Internal Do Not Call Class are entitled to an award of up to $500 and in damages for each and every call sent and up to $1,500 in damages if the calls are found to be willful.

PRAYER FOR RELIEF

WHEREFORE, Plaintiff, individually and on behalf of the Classes, prays for the following relief:

- A. Certification of the proposed Classes;
- B. Appointment of Plaintiff as representative of the Classes;
- C. Appointment of the undersigned counsel as counsel for the Classes;
- D. An order enjoining Defendant and/or any of its affiliates, agents, and/or other persons or entities acting on Defendant's behalf, as applicable, from making telemarketing calls to numbers on the National Do Not Call Registry, absent an emergency circumstance;
- E. An award to Plaintiff and the Classes of damages, as allowed by law; and
- F. Orders granting such other and further relief as the Court deems necessary, just, and proper.

VI. DEMAND FOR JURY

Plaintiff demands a trial by jury for all issues so triable.

RESPECTFULLY SUBMITTED AND DATED this May 8, 2025.
